

Composting

Creating your own composting bin

Do you live in an apartment, condominium, or house with a small backyard, yet you still want to compost? Attend this workshop to build your very own composting bin using worms! A worm bin, otherwise known as vermicomposting is a great way to compost your food scraps without having access to an outdoor area.

***Please bring in your own plastic bin container with a lid and some newspaper. We'll supply the worms!
